Keynote Speaker: Crystal MacKay

Crystal is a dynamic presenter with the unique ability to share a vision, encourage others to get on board, and roll up their sleeves to make it happen—all with a smile. Crystal's messages and authentic approach resonate with hundreds of audiences ranging from CEO's, farmers, ranchers, business leaders, and the media, right through to the Queen of England herself!

Crystal is recognized as a leader in collaboration and earning public trust in food and farming. She is a pioneer with 25 years of experience and several awards for her work in connecting fork back to farm, including her roles as the founding CEO of both the Canadian Centre for Food Integrity and Farm & Food Care. In 2019, she created her own company, Loft32, with the vision to elevate people, business and the conversation on food and farming.
